

For more than three decades, the National Black MBA Association® has provided access to professional development and networking opportunities for African Americans in business, education and the community.

The idea is to connect you to the people, resources and events that can make a difference in your career, your quality of life and where you live—it's about being connected.

No matter what your goals or the stage of your career, NBMBA® helps you address and integrate five major life components:

EDUCATION

From high school through the MBA and into the world of business, we provide scholarships, mentoring and thought-provoking leadership to help you navigate the pipeline of career success.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Globalization, outsourcing, even shifting dynamics inside the workplace have created new entrepreneurial opportunities — and new obstacles. NBMBA provides access to resources, information and insights to help you plan, manage and profit from change.

CAREER

Shape your vision. Get feedback. Polish your skills. Through NBMBA Career Success Network, members can tap into world-class executive coaching, online tools, live workshops and much more.

LEADERSHIP

NBMBA members are among the top leadership in corporate America, at the helm of the most dynamic emerging enterprises, and at the top of their fields in business education. NBMBA harnesses the best ideas and resources to develop the next generation of business leadership.

LIFESTYLE

Finding life balance as a high-achiever is important to you. Helping you connect with others who share similar interests and concerns is vital to us. Networking around personal well-being, family, culture and community is another way we bring our mission to life.

Join a Chapter

NBMBA® is a national association that engages our members at the local level. Our 39 chapters work closely with the corporate, civic and educational institutions in their regions to add value to your membership and create opportunities for networking and advancement. It is the passion and commitment that emanates from the local level that you see on display each year at our Annual Conference & Exposition, one of the largest executive recruitment, networking and professional development events in the nation.

The NBMBA is a national, member-based organization with 39 chapters and active members in markets throughout the country, including:

Celebrating more than 35 years of leading in the creation of intellectual and financial wealth for African-americans, the National Black MBA Association has a proven track record of success. Our membership exceeds 7,500 and continues to grow. Our 39 chapters across the country provide education and networking on the local level, along with programs geared at building the pipeline of African Americans obtaining intellectual and economic wealth.

We are also honored to have an impressive roster of corporate sponsors who support our programs and services throughout the year, including the NBMBAA Employment Network® online job board. Our newest product, NtentialSM, is an online career enhancement service aimed at helping you reach your infinite potential. It gives users access to information and coaching where they can research companies, industry trends and learn about career success stories of global business leaders.
